The Vegan Butcher

The ultimate guide to plant-based meat

By Zacchary Bird

ISBN 9781922417329
 On Sale 19 Oct 2021
 £30 | 244 x 193mm | 304 pages
 Full-colour | Hardcover | Food

The ultimate science-meets-magic guide to plant-based meat for vegans who are tired of burgers.

For any vegans shedding a tear over bacon, eggs or a porterhouse steak, this is your new bible. Whether you want to experiment with simple meat substitutes in everyday meals or make an entire vegan charcuterie board from scratch, this book is here to shake up your perception of plants and reintroduce you to your favourite classics.

Veganism isn't about missing out – it's about getting creative, and with Zacchary's ingenuity, meat's no longer forbidden (and we're not just talking jackfruit). Watermelon? Now it's a ham. Gluten flour? Turkey. Mushrooms – we think you mean steak.

Equal parts science and magic, this cookbook explores the vast world of plant-based meat possibilities. From easy replacements to full-blown kitchen experiments, The Vegan Butcher has recipes for cooks of every level, with substitutes for (almost) any dish you could think of. It's all the comfort of Matty Matheson, but vegan, because let's face it: falafels are great, but sometimes we want an entire turkey, and Zac's here to realize our guilt-free, home-cooked dream.

Zacchary Bird is a writer and vegan recipe developer based in Melbourne, Australia with a penchant for plant-based burgers. His first book, Vegan Junk Food, was published with Smith Street Books in 2019.

Istria

Recipes and stories from the hidden heart of Italy, Slovenia and Croatia

By Paola Bacchia

ISBN 9781922417183
On Sale 5 Oct 2021
£26 | 240 x 190mm | 272 pages
Full-colour | Hardcover | Food

Explore the culture and history of Istria – a land shared by Italy, Croatia and Slovenia – through the kitchens and recipes of its inhabitants.

'Istria is testament to the idea that recipes are so much more than instructions, that they are accumulated layers of stories and histories, both personal and collective, brought to life every time a dish is made. An exquisite book.' – Rachel Roddy

Istria is the heart-shaped promontory at the northern crux of the Adriatic Sea, where rows of vines and olives grow in fields of red earth. Here, the cuisine records a history of changing borders – a blend of the countries (Italy, the Republic of Venice, Austria, Hungary and now Slovenia and Croatia) that have shared Istria's hills and coasts and valleys.

This book is a record of traditions, of these cultures and of Paola's family: recipes from her childhood, the region's past, and family and friends who still live beside the Adriatic coast. Among recipes for semolina dumplings, beef and pork goulash and apricot strudel are memories of the region and stories of the recipes' authors: the Italian-Istrians who remained in the region after the 1940s, and those who left for new countries.

Paola Bacchia was born to Italian migrant parents and into their food culture. Her award-winning blog, Italy On My Mind, explores the connection between family memories and food through stories, photos and recipes. She returns to Italy every year to expand her knowledge of Italian food and traditions. Previously, she published Italian Street Food and Adriatico with Smith Street Books.

Bayrut: The Cookbook

Recipes from the heart of a Lebanese city kitchen

By Hisham Assaad

ISBN 9781925811698
On Sale 19 Oct 2021
£26 | 254 x 203mm | 224 pages
Full-colour | Hardcover | Food

A stunning, authentic and evocative cookbook on the food of Beirut – the heart of Lebanon.

Beirut, the capital of Lebanon, is an exhilarating, chaotic city with a tumultuous past yet a thriving, vibrant foodie reputation. Perfectly poised between the Middle East and the Mediterranean, Lebanese cuisine is hugely popular – famed for its varied and flavourful regional dishes that emphasize whole grains, fresh fruits, vegetables and seafood.

Beirut's ever-changing, often turbulent, heritage means that its food has evolved an exciting character of its own. In this book, Hisham Assaad shows you the best the city has to offer, with accessible, delicious recipes, ranging from the classics to more modern fare. He tells the story of a city with energy and diversity, of multiple cultures and traditions, with ever-popular street food, a thriving restaurant and café scene, and traditional family favourites handed down through generations. Learn to create lavish breakfast spreads, traditional Sunday feasts, fresh and vibrant salads, easy and nutritious suppers, or even a delectable afternoon tea with tempting perfumed sweets and delicacies.

With stunning food and travel photography, this book will transport you to the cultural melting pot that is Beirut – a city that excels at mouth-watering food.

Hisham Assaad is a Lebanese food stylist, graphic designer, photographer and culinary tour guide, based in Beirut. He is also the author of the blog cookin5m2, in which he shares recipes from his compact city kitchen. This is his first book.

 £26 | 254 x 203mm | 272 pages
 Full-colour | Hardcover | Food

Discover the food of the Philippines' 7000 tropical islands.

Colourful and vibrant, Filipino food is the culmination of naturally salty, sour and sweet ingredients from the land, along with the heart-warming Filipino spirit of generosity and community, where food is always shared and imbued with meaning.

In this vivid cookbook, Yasmin Newman invites you into her kitchen and into the homes of friends and locals, sharing traditional dishes, and vegetarian and modern interpretations on the classics. From sizzling wild mushroom sisig, golden turmeric and cassia bark rice from the Muslim south and pork belly adobo to glistening candied kalamansi cake, Filipino food celebrates and satisfies all the senses. With easy recipes for home cooks and chapters divided into feasts, there's inspiration for all occasions.

Yasmin's journey takes her through the lush isles of the Philippines, where she captures the age-old traditions, rich folklore and enchanting personal stories of the country.

Under Coconut Skies is the follow-up to Yasmin's first beloved cookbook on Filipino food, 7000 Islands.

Yasmin Newman is a food and travel writer, photographer and presenter, based in Australia. She works with SBS Food and Australian Traveller and has previously published two critically acclaimed books.

Men In this Town: A Decade of Men's Street Style

Sydney, New York, Tokyo, Milan, London, Melbourne, Toronto, Los Angeles, Madrid, Florence, Paris

By Giuseppe Santamaria

ISBN 9781922417381

On Sale 21 Sep 2021

£30 | 265 x 245mm | 280 pages

Full-colour | Hardcover | Fashion

A selection of the best of men's street fashion through the last ten years.

For the last decade, Giuseppe Santamaria has observed and recorded the men of big cities while they cross streets, sit at cafes, and pose, momentarily, on busy sidewalks. Traveling the continents, Giuseppe has documented the evolution of men's identities, communicated through their attitude and style as they move through their different concrete jungles.

With photos shot in Sydney, New York, Tokyo, Milan, London, Melbourne, Toronto, L.A., Madrid, Florence and Paris, this collection is a truly global retrospective of men's street fashion. Each chapter is divided by style, with looks at the trends that steered us. Filled with striking photographs, Men In This Town is a record of the men who stick out in a crowd with their particular sense of just who and what they are.

For anyone with a love of photography, fashion, or culture's evolution, Giuseppe's photography collection is a must have.

Giuseppe Santamaria is a Sydney-based writer, fashion photographer and creator of Men in this Town. Traveling the globe, he photographs and features street fashion across the big cities on his blog and in his magazines. He has previously published several books.

Never Too Small

Reimagining small space living

By Joel Beath & Elizabeth Price

ISBN 9781922417213
 On Sale 5 Oct 2021
 £30 | 250 x 210mm | 296 pages
 Full-colour | Hardcover | Lifestyle

Small living, at its best.

What does the future of urban living look like?

Joel Beath and Elizabeth Price explore this question drawing inspiration from a diverse collection of apartment designs, all smaller than 50m²/540ft². Through the lens of five small-footprint design principles and drawing on architectural images and detailed floor plans, the authors examine how architects and designers are reimagining small space living.

Full of inspiration we can each apply to our own spaces, this is a book that offers hope and inspiration for a future of our cities and their citizens in which sustainability and style, comfort and affordability can co-exist. Never Too Small proves living better doesn't have to mean living larger..

Joel Beath and Elizabeth Price provide a window into the world of Small Footprint Living, featuring award-winning designers on their website and YouTube channel. This is their first book.

How to Be Italian

Eat, drink, dress, travel and love
la dolce vita

By Maria Pasquale

ISBN 9781922417312
On Sale 12 Oct 2021
£14.99 | 195 x 140mm | 216 pages
Full-colour | Hardcover | Lifestyle

Delve into the art of loving and living in every moment.

What does it mean to be Italian?

Is it pausing to enjoy an aperitivo or gelato? A passeggiata down a laneway steeped in history? An August spent tanning at the beach?

This book is a celebration of the Italian lifestyle – an education in drinking to savour the moment, travelling indulgently, and cherishing food and culture. A lesson in the dolce far niente: the sweetness of doing nothing. We may not all live in the bel paese, but anyone can learn from the rich tapestry of life on the boot.

From the innovation of Italian fashion and design, the Golden Age of its cinema to the Roman Empire's cultural echoes (and some very good espresso), take a dip into the Italian psyche and learn to eat, love, dress, think and have fun as only the Italians can.

Maria Pasquale was born in Melbourne to Italian parents and has been based in Rome since 2011. She is an award-winning food and travel journalist and the founder of the popular blog HeartRome, which has readers in 100 countries and a social media following that exceeds 40,000. In 2017, she published I Heart Rome with Smith Street Books.

The PRINCIPLES of the ITALIAN LIFESTYLE

The Italian lifestyle is an ideal composed many things: family and friends, the aperitivo and the passeggiata, style and elegance, food and wine. Distilled, it revolves around a few concepts and a whole lot of unwritten rules.

There's the dolce far niente, more prevalent through the centre to the south, which can only be described as the art of being idle. It's when you sit down to a plate of pasta and a glass of good wine, watching the world go by – the goddess summons far away from everyday stress and pressure.

There's la bella figura, all about comportment and making a good impression. Then there's graciosa, a term coined in the 1500s. In its simplest form, it is the effortless way in which Italians carry themselves with spontaneity, seemingly unprepared beauty and elegance. And it's hard not to mention the term made famous all over the world, la dolce vita – the sweet life.

The Italian lifestyle encompasses all of these philosophies and so much more.

They form the basis of what's important to Italians. Being at the very core of who Italians are. The people here are passionate about everything and proud of their origins. But surprisingly, while these origins include some of the world's greatest artists, composers, thinkers and some awe-inspiring monuments, it doesn't make the Italians arrogant. Instead, it gives them a quiet confidence – as though they know their wellness is in their blood – which authenticity, generosity and resilience guide their character.

Fundamentally, to be Italian is to be lively and affectionate. It's to kiss and embrace and hold hands, while old men and women walk arm in arm with others. It's to be direct and expressive with your emotions. And with your words and to wave your hands with gestures. From the outside looking in, it can sometimes seem like a lot of action and drama. But really, it's about the Italian spirit – the unique way in which they connect and relate to one another. That is how the Italians live.

LIVE 43

HOW TO LIVE like the ITALIANS

01.

Practise the art of la bella figura – always strive to make a good impression

02.

Appreciate beauty, your surroundings and the simple things in life while you take life as it comes, take one coffee

03.

Take time for a passeggiata, not just for exercise but to socialise with loved ones

04.

Know your star sign and especially your zodiac

05.

Nurture your passions and take time to savour the moment

Let it Lizzo

50 reasons why Lizzo is perfection

Written by Billie Oliver
Illustrated by Stephanie Spartels

ISBN 9781922417053
On Sale 21 Sep 2021
£9.99 | 185 x 160mm | 104 pages
Full-colour | Hardcover | Pop Culture

This hilarious scrapbook is a love letter to Lizzo, the queen of self-affirmation, soulful pop bangers, and, of course, the red carpet.

To many, it seemed as though Lizzo shot to fame overnight. But longtime fans, like author Billie Oliver, know this is hardly the case. Lizzo's story is one of tireless persistence, in an industry and media landscape where she was often made to feel like she didn't belong. Well, you better believe that never stopped Lizzo.

Lizzo's status as a body positivity and self-love advocate, and her ascent to global stardom, has inspired us all. Despite taking over the whole damn world, Lizzo has maintained her brand of I-don't-give-a-fk sincerity that many of us now aspire to. Or at least enjoy watching. How many other artists can claim to have twerked on stages around the world while playing classical flute?

This book offers 50 pieces of Lizzo's story in the most engaging way possible, as a tribute to an icon who truly shines (and lets us all too).

Billie Oliver is a film critic and freelance journalist, based in Melbourne, Australia. She's a bona fide pop-culture junkie and has written plenty of Lizzo-laden red carpet recaps in her time. Billie previously published Chalania and Keanu Forever with published by Smith Street Books.

This Book is Literally Just Pictures of Animals Silently Judging You

ISBN 9781922417046
On Sale 5 Oct 2021
£9.99 | 185 x 160mm | 96 pages
Full-colour | Hardcover | Humour

This book is here to give us all the side eye, showcasing our friends from the animal kingdom at their very sassiest.

If the utter chaos of recent world events has taught us anything, it's that people are bad at making decisions. So, in uncertain times, we need someone to tell us like it is - and that someone is animals.

As its title suggests, this book is literally just pictures of animals silently judging you and your life choices. Some of these include: a monkey who knows what you did last night, giraffes who can't believe you're wearing that, cats who just can't and a corgi who isn't angry - just disappointed.

Toward these sage angels we must turn, in these weird times for humankind, to help us make better decisions - for ourselves and our furry friends who are, honestly, kind of embarrassed.
